Announcement

ProTEQ Solutions LLC., from Nashua, NH., announces that on March 30, 2017 they acquired all of the assets of GTEK LLC. and merged the company with ProTEQ.

ProTEQ and GTEK have both earned a reputation in the region as tier-one test and measurement manufacturer's representative companies. They were widely considered to be the top two rep companies by test equipment manufacturers and by the customers for these products. The merger brings together the best of both companies.

Aldo Guarino, former President and owner of GTEK, is now a partner in ProTEQ. He joins Charles Freihofer, Gary Holbrook and Chris Poling as a managing partner in the business. Aldo will be responsible for selling the products from the combined companies to key accounts in his territory. He will also assist the ProTEQ team to come up to speed to sell the products that come over from GTEK and ensure that we maintain continuity.

ProTEQ will be adding several manufacturers to their portfolio including top names; VTI Instruments, Spectracom, Anritsu, Gigatronics, Holzworth, Alta Data and Verifide.

ProTEQ's General Manager, Charles Freihofer said "We are thrilled to join forces with Aldo Guarino and GTEK. ProTEQ and GTEK are both well known as the best T&M manufacturer's rep companies in New England. It just seems like a natural fit for these two great companies to merge together and we are proud to announce that we have. I personally look forward to working with Aldo as a partner. He brings another level of experience and knowledge to ProTEQ that will greatly benefit the company. Together, and with the rest of the ProTEQ team, we look forward to serving the existing customers and to growing the business in the area."
